EDITORIAL NOTES.

Senator Ingalls will soon introduce a bill providing that any person who encloses public lands to which he has no title, shall be liable to a fine of $100, and any person who obstructs the passage of another over or through the public domain, shall for every offense pay the aggrieved person $500. Also a bill authorizing a re-survey of townships erroneously surveyed, or in which monuments marking the boundary have been obliterated.

Representative Cassidy will shortly introduce a bill to provide for the abolishment of the Territorial Legislature of Utah and appointment instead, of a Legislative Commission of 13 members, to be appointed by the President and confirmed by the Senate.

Representative Converse of Ohio, will introduce a bill to-morrow, if possible, providing for the restriction of the duty on clothing, wools, combing wools, carpets, and other similar wools, to what they were prior to the enactment of the present tariff law.

Congressman Davis will introduce a bill to-morrow providing for the promotion of General Sheridan to the rank of General of the Army, and General Hancock to that of Lieutenant General.

Active negotiations have been opened with the United States Government for reciprocal conditions beneficial to trade between Cuba and the United States.

By the new rules the Senate is to have a committee on Internal Improvements (and one on Expenditure of Public Money).

WESTERN DISPATCHES

(PRESS DISPATCHES TO THE GAZETTE.)

Mrs. Martin Recalls her Affidavit
 SAN FRANCISCO, December 10.

Mrs. Mary Martin, who was reported to have sworn to an affidavit on the 5th instant, that Robert Peacock was sent to jail by false accusation and perjured testimony, on the charge of attempting to commit crime on Edith Martin, her daughter, now denies the truth of her deposition, and states that she signed the document without knowing its contents, for a money consideration, at the instance of Mr. Allen and John Scott.

A False Rumor.

A rumor is in circulation that J. P. Bell, the delinquent Tax Collector, has departed for Europe, taking with him $40,000 belonging to the city. Tax Collector Brady discredits the rumor, and says it would be impossible for Bell to retain such an amount, except by failing to account for several years, average collections being but $1,500 per month. Bell's clerk says his employer is at Cayuga, N. Y., and will return immediately.

A Murderer Found Guilty.

SOCORRO, N. M., December 10. Joel Fowler, found guilty of murder in the first degree for killing Cole about a month ago, will be sentenced to-day. It is stated that Fowler has killed seven men. He received the verdict with a laugh.

A Town Raided.

TOMBSTONE, December 10. Saturday night five mounted men raided the town of Bisbee and killed S. C. Tappiner, D. T. Smith and J. R. Nolly, and wounded Mrs. Roberts. They robbed A. Castaneda's safe of $1,900. The entire transaction occurred within five minutes, and it is believed the robbers are the same who, a few weeks ago, robbed the Southern Pacific train at Gage station. Pursuit has been organized.

The Union Rolling Mills burned at Cleveland, Ohio, this morning.

EASTERN DISPATCHES.

(PRESS DISPATCHES TO THE GAZETTE.)

Senator Jones Interviewed Again.
 CHICAGO, December 10.

During the course of a conversation yesterday with a reporter, Senator Jones expressed the opinion that this country was evidently verging toward hard times. The reporter asked: "What is your opinion of the political situation?"

"Carlisle's election, of course, means that the Democratic party is committed to tariff reform, and fortune was glad to see it. It will cause a healthier state of politics. This dividing of two parties on a live issue is better than to have gone into another Presidential contest with simply offices at stake, or on war issues. Sectional issues are dead. No portion of the Anglo-Saxon race in this country will ever consent to a negro socially or politically, where he may be in numerical ascendancy; and the rest of the country will have to come to understand this, and the sooner the better."

"Do you suppose all the power of the United States could ever make the people of the Pacific coast tolerate the Chinese? Supposing the latter were naturalized and outnumbered the whites, it is always, in politics, a question for force, and the greatest force is bound to get supremacy. The ballot simply represents certain forces, and if it does not represent a greater force it amounts to nothing. Realizing that they are the greater force morally, intellectually and physically, the whites of the South will never respect the ballots of negro majorities."

"Whom do you favor for the Republican nomination next year?"

"No one, particularly. There are half a dozen good men from among whom to choose. I think President Arthur is thoroughly acceptable. The feeling on this coast in regard to this question is not as yet mature."

A Lady's Denials.

NEW YORK, December 10. Jennie Flood, the California heiress, who is reported by a London paper to be engaged to a British Peer, is in this city, and emphatically denies the report. It is understood, too, that Miss Flood denies that she was jilted by young Grant, but claims the match was broken off by mutual consent. She is an accomplished and amiable lady, highly esteemed by all who know her. She possesses in her own right $2,500,000 in government bonds presented her on a recent birthday.

The English noble referred to is believed to be Lord Beaumont, who was in San Francisco not long since. It is understood that the young noble made overtures for the hand of a wealthy young heiress, but demanded a dowry of $5,000,000, which old man Flood indignantly refused. Mr. Flood, like Mr. Mackay, desires that his daughter should marry some well-bred American business man.

Trouble in Northern Pacific Stock
 —Conkling and Villard Heavy Losers.

If reports are true, President Villard's friends have suffered a good deal from the tumble in Northern Pacific stock. Villard says that he, too, is a poorer man than he was before he started out on his splendid picnic across the continent. The Vice-President of the company is also reported a heavy loser, and with him Horace White. The hardest cases are those of Roscoe Conkling and his friend, A. B. Johnson of Utica. Conkling is reported to have bought freely on advice from headquarters. It is hinted now that he is in debt to his bankers to the amount of $50,000.

Death in the Cabinet.

ST. LOUIS, December 9. Quite a startling event occurred to-night. Jas. F. Gein and wife of New York were giving a spiritualistic performance. Towards the close Gein stepped into an ante-room at the rear of the stage to rest, after his exhausting cabinet exhibition, and when followed two or three minutes later by his wife, was found dead on the floor. An examination showed that death was caused from heart disease. Gein was a Mason in good standing. He belonged to the Pacific Lodge of New York.

What Jones Says.

CHICAGO, December 10. Senator Jones of Nevada passed through the city to-day on his way to Washington. In an interview he said he was opposed to the passage of any law further restricting the coinage of silver; he also referred to the uncompromising hostility of Americans on the Pacific Coast to the importation of any more Chinese.

Bills Introduced.

WASHINGTON, December 10. Rosecrans introduced a bill to-day to indemnify California. In her expenses incurred during the Indian wars; also, to prevent undue discrimination in railroad transportation.

Senate Committee Changes.
 WASHINGTON, December 10.

The caucus of Republican Senators was well attended. Mahone was present. The report of the Committee upon Membership of Senate Com-

Bills Touching Rates of Fare on Pacific Railways. — Unearned Land Grants.

WASHINGTON, December 10. The bill regarding the Pacific Railroads, provides that after 40 days from the passage of the Act, it shall be unlawful for those companies to charge more than three cents per mile on first-class passage, two cents for second-class, and one and one-half for third-class.

Tully's bill declares forfeited all unearned land grants in California. Payson's bill declares forfeited land grants to a large number of roads involving many millions of acres of land. The Senate without important action, adjourned.

Land Troubles.

WASHINGTON, December 10. With a view of settling serious troubles, attended with murder and other crimes, existing between the Pacific Railroad Company and settlers upon the Moquelamos grant, California, the Secretary of the Interior has requested the Attorney-General to set aside the patents, in order to determine the question of title.

WASHINGTON, December 10. The Supreme Court affirmed the judgment of the court below in favor of Jefferson Davis, in the contested will case of Mrs. Dorsey, who left her property to Davis.

The Hickory Rolling Mills at Erie Pa., were destroyed by fire this morning.

Seriously Injured by a Cave-Maden Death from Heart Disease.

AUSTIN, December 10.

Patrick Kearns was caught in a cave in the Lander shaft. A boulder weighing over half a ton rolled over him, dislocating his ankle and bruising his back, spine and shoulder. The wounds are serious. Later in the day, while a party was repairing the broken timbers caused by the first cave, another occurred, and Lawrence McMann had three ribs on the left side broken, and was badly bruised. He will recover.

D. W. Rinswalt dropped dead in the International Hotel this morning. He was a native of Pennsylvania, aged 40 years. It is supposed he died from heart disease.

MISCELLANEOUS.

An Old Soldier's EXPERIENCE.

"Calvert, Texas, May 2, 1892."

"I wish to express my appreciation of the valuable qualities of

Ayer's Cherry Pectoral

as a cough remedy.

"While with Churchill's army, just before the battle of Vicksburg, I contracted a severe cold, which terminated in a dangerous cough. I found no relief till on our march we came to a country store, where, on asking for some remedy, I was urged to try Ayer's Cherry Pectoral.

"I did so, and was rapidly cured. Since then I have kept the Pectoral constantly by me, for family use, and I have found it to be an invaluable remedy for throat and lung diseases.

J. W. WAITLEY."

Thousands of testimonials certify to the prompt cure of all bronchial and lung affections, by the use of AYER'S CHERRY PECTORAL. Being very palatable, the youngest children take it readily.

JOTTINGS

The citizens of Mason valley are organizing a military company. Bronze statue at Nasby's, 27 Commercial Row. Thermometer at 7, 9, 11, 1, 3-14, 25, 33, 37, 42.

Members of the Reno Guard should not forget the meeting tonight; business of importance.

After suffering seven years with joint trouble, J. Carr Moody, Esq., Vallejo Cal., was cured by St. Jacob's Oil, the great pain-cure.

Knowles & Bainbridge still keep front rank in the matter of stoves, tin and sheet iron ware, and they are determined to sell so cheap that they shall never lose a customer.

It is a pleasure to visit Jamison's dry goods store; everything there is so neat. But even a greater attraction is the multiplicity of goods and their cheapness. Thus say all the ladies.

Nasby has a larger, finer and if possible a better selection of holiday goods than ever before. To enumerate a tithe of the articles he offers would be out of the question. You must go yourself and examine them.

To praise the stock of Abrahams Bros. is like painting the lily. It is certainly not needed by those who have been there. We therefore simply recommend those who have not been there to go at once and supply themselves. They will go again.

PERSONALS

Dow Huntsman went west this morning. Bishop Whitaker preached at Dayton last night.

J. Moody, of Truckee, returned to-day from a Boston trip. George Beecroft arrived from Franktown this morning.

Joseph Odett arrived in town Saturday from his ranch in Winnemucca valley.

It is said that D. R. Session will shortly serve his connection with the Eureka Sentinel and go east to live.

E. J. Parkinson will be taken to Oakland on Tuesday, as a change of atmosphere is necessary for his speedy recovery.

Miss Mamie Denson of Sacramento, will spend a part of the winter visiting Miss Lizzie Crawford in Carson.

Geo. Fountain, nephew of Capt. Dall, passed through this morning en route for San Francisco, where he goes to join his uncle.

Major-General W. S. Hancock is expected to pass through Reno on Tuesday morning, en route to San Francisco and Los Angeles.

Sheriff Randall of Lyon county, and Captain H. G. Parker have met at Carson and have shaken hands, thus ending the cruel Indian war at Mason valley.

Closing Exercises

Next Monday, the 17th, the review of the Fall term in the public school begins at the south side school house, with oral examinations in the morning by Miss Gibbs and literary exercises in the afternoon.

Tuesday-In the morning there will be literary exercises in the Primary department, under charge of Miss Effie McNeely and Miss Sarah Wilson. The exercises in the afternoon will be held at the Kindergarten, under charge of Mrs. Helen Scoville. Oral examination in the High School. In the evening a public entertainment will be given at the Nevada Theater, by the pupils of the Preparatory department.

Wednesday-The morning will close the oral examinations at the High School. In the afternoon the exercises will be held in Assembly Hall. The public is invited.

Making a Test Case

The bondsmen of County Treasurer Nevin held a meeting Saturday evening, at which about $100,000 of his bond was represented. The Enterprise says they decided to assess themselves ten per cent. of the amount which they are called on to make up, in order to find out by suit whether they are liable. Four per cent. of this amount is to be paid to the lawyers for carrying on the suit, and the remaining six per cent. is not to be paid them unless they win. By this arrangement a bondsmen for $1,000 will only have to pay about $2 to find out whether he is liable or not.

A Streak of Luck

It is encouraging to see that there is a good spot found in Nevada once in a while, even if they are a good ways apart. W. W. Shaff came in this morning from Paradise to spend Christmas with his family. He says the Wild Goose paid $21,000 in November, and Mr. McCurdy says it will pay a thousand dollars a day in December. He intends to put ten stamps more in the mill next spring, and Mr. Shaff is going back. He has ore to run a year if he does not find any more. The present body is only seventy-five feet below the surface, and is six feet wide.

Recovering

J. D. Adkins, shot by Allen about a week ago, was on the street this morning, and is satisfied that there is no further danger in his case.

BERGSTEIN VS. BISHOP.

The End of the Asylum Investigation-Bishop Exonerated.

Dr. Bergstein took the stand in the Asylum investigation Saturday afternoon, and testified to what he knew about Dr. Bishop's management. He talked for nearly five hours. He gave his testimony and made his argument, as he went along. He defined his position by saying that he was not, neither would he be, an applicant for the position under any circumstances. He was prompted by the purest of motives—that of doing what he could to protect the poor unfortunate confined in the asylum. He thought that Dr. Bishop did not give the patients suffering from a mild type of insanity, freedom enough; he (Bergstein) was a strong advocate of the modern method of

TREATING INSANITY

And believed that anything that would keep the mind of a patient free from unpleasant subjects, was better than confinement. He thought the patient should be allowed every liberty compatible with safety, and thought more freedom should be accorded them. He read from several medical works to show that that method of treatment had been followed by better results than any other. Mr. Deal asked him if he thought Dr. Bishop could with safety pursue any course other than that followed by him with the money the State had to spend, taking into consideration the arrangement of the asylum. If so he would like to have him inform the Board how it could be done. Bergstein thought there were many patients who could be trusted, and that they should be allowed every privilege; that a patient suffering from insanity should be treated as a reasonable being, and not as wild beasts or criminals. He said that if a patient were shown that he was trusted and that the attendants had confidence in him and would trust him, he seldom betrayed that confidence, and cited the case of Pat Mullin, who wanted to go outside. Dr. Bergstein trusted him by allowing him the freedom of the building and grounds after a promise that he would not run away. The result was that Mullin improved from that on and had never made any attempt to leave the place. He also called attention to several other patients who might be similarly trusted. He said that when he went to the asylum the only difference between Dr. Bishop's position as superintendent and his as assistant was in name, that the salaries of both positions amounted to $300 a month and were

DIVIDED EQUALLY BETWEEN

Shem; that he undertook the management of the inside and Bishop looked after the farm, the purchase of supplies and other outside affairs; he said he inaugurated a system of checking goods brought to the institution which would show what became of every article that was brought to the place; but that Marsden, the commissary, soon neglected to follow it, saying that he found it impracticable to do so, and recited several instances of carelessness in Marsden's method of keeping the commissary store accounts. In this connection he called attention to the

TESTIMONY OF MARSDEN

Who said that Dr. Bishop told him he need not keep his accounts in that way. Mr. Deal said there was no question on that point, that under the present system there was no protection for the State and no accounting for the disbursement of supplies. He complained of the manner in which the time of the employees was kept, saying that it frequently happened that when they came to settle with men employed, it would be discovered that no one about the place knew anything about the account, and that they had to rely upon the man's own statement of how much was due him, and settle accordingly. He said Dr. Bishop had employed painters, paying them $3 per day when plenty of good men could be found willing and anxious to work for $2 a day. He said that Dr. Bishop paid masons at work putting up the walls of the boiler house who did not half do the work, and thought it was mismanagement to pay a man for two days' work when he did not earn but one day's wages. To illustrate his position he said that it took 43 days' work to lay 40 bricks, and he had been informed that a good brick mason could lay from 2,500 to 3,000 brick per day. He said that Dr. Bishop had allowed attendants to remain after they had slapped and misused patients in the wards, after it had been reported to him. He said that Avery had reported to him (Bergstein) the

BEATING OF SARAH SMITH

On the 18th of July, and that he (Bergstein) immediately informed the Superintendent of it, but that notwithstanding, he allowed the attendant to remain for some time afterwards. He said the woman was sent there because it was thought she could have better care than at home. He pictured the scene in the ward where the Smith woman was confined, and thought it was not the right way to woo her mind back to reason. He testified to liquor having been frequently brought to the place and drunk by the attendants and others; said Marsden had been frequently drunk, and he had called Bishop's attention to the fact, and that Bishop informed him that he should be discharged, but that was the last of it, and that he was there to-day. He told of the manner in which patient Mason had been taken from the upper wards to the yard, by an attendant; how he was yanked and kicked on the way down stairs. Commissioner Deal asked him if he ever called the Board's attention to these instances of cruelty. He thought he had called Governor Adams and Huffaker's attention to it.

Mr. Deal—I was here several times, but you never spoke to me about it.

Bergstein—The reason I did not speak to you about it, was because I did not wish to do Dr. Bishop any injustice, and thought the wrongs could be remedied by my calling Bishop's attention to it. He said that Mrs. West a patient

SUFFERING OF MELANCHOLIA

Was allowed to visit the rooms of Dr. Bergstein and keep them in order; that she was in the habit of sitting with Mrs. Bergstein and sewing and knitting; that Dr. Bishop ordered the matron to keep her in the ward and not allow her to go out again. He went to the matron and asked her what was the matter with Mrs. West, why she was not allowed to go out; the matron informed him that is was Bishop's orders that she be kept in. He went to Bishop about it and Bishop informed him that Mrs. West was a tattler and mischief-maker and that he would not permit her to leave the ward; Dr. Bergstein replied by saying that he wished there was such a person in every ward in the building; that he felt very thankful to have the abuse of patients reported to him; Bishop said he could not help it, she should not be permitted to go out; Bergstein said that when an effort was made to keep the abuses of patients from an officer he desired to sever his connection with that institution. He left the asylum and came to town, where the matter was settled between him and Bishop and he returned to the asylum. Mrs. West was discharged shortly after that.

After testifying to the several instances of Bishop's mismanagement and the ill-treatment of patients by attendants, the illegitimate use of liquor, and the careless manner of keeping the books and other things contained in the charges, he rested his case and was cross-examined by the Board, and counsel for the defense.

Lindsay—Doctor, when did you leave the asylum?

Answer—On the 11th of September.

Question—From the 20th of July to the 20th of September you were here all the time?

Answer—Yes sir.

What was the occasion of your leaving?

Dr. Bergstein replied by explaining how he came to publish a card in the GAZETTE when requested not to do so by Dr. Bishop, for the card was a direct contradiction to a statement made to the GAZETTE by Dr. Bishop relative to the admission of visitors during meal hours.

He read the card to Bishop and Bishop told him that if the card went in, he, Bergstein, would go out, "and," said he, "the card went in and I went out."

Lindsay—Why did you not institute these proceedings before?

Bergstein—I said to myself that while I am here I will do all I can to protect the institution, and try and remedy the evils without making any fuss.

Lindsay—In your conversation with Governor Adams, did you call his attention to these things?

Bergstein—I can't say.

Lindsay—Did you ever inform Governor Adams that Bishop was guilty of malfeasance in office?

Bergstein—I can not remember, I don't know. I told him of the abuse of Mason by attendant Simpson, for I knew the Governor was a warm friend of Mason's, and would protect him.

Did you in your conversation with Adams and Huffaker ask them to go to Bishop and suggest that these charges be made?

I called Huffaker's attention to the barred wire fence and the painting of Bishop's buggy.

Did you not want your buggy repaired at the expense of the State?

No. I wanted my buggy repaired and took it to McFarlin's and had it done. I talked with Bishop about it, and told him as McFarlin owed us for medical attendance, I would have the work done there.

Halleck—Doctor, did you not talk with me about having your buggy repaired at the expense of the State?

Bergstein—I don't remember, Halleck had an indistinct recollection of a conversation about it.

On one occasion my buggy was repaired at the Asylum. I broke it coming from town, and had one of the men do a rough job on it.

Deal read the second specification of the charges about squandering the funds, and asked Bergstein if he told any member of the building committee about the brickwork.

Bergstein—No, I never spoke to them about it; I did not wish to interfere.

Deal—Do you remember of calling my attention to the admirable manner in which the books are kept?

Bergstein—Yes, but that was early in the year; at that time the books were well kept.

Deal—Doctor, what about the kicking of Mason by Simpson?

Bishop—I never knew nor ever heard of Simpson ever kicking a man until after Simpson left.

Coffin—What about the burial of a patient?

Bishop—A man was brought here from Carson and placed in "C" ward; he died the same evening. His wife came with him, and asked if she could not remain. Bergstein objected to it, and she went back to town. That evening Bergstein and I saw that death was approaching rapidly and sent for her, but before she got here he died. We had the body cared for, and I ordered a coffin made and sent to town for some coffin nails and a little cross; the trimming cost $3.50. I desired to show the widow all the respect I could, and permitted several patients to attend the burial. I did not think it would do them harm, but thought any change was beneficial.

Coffin—How about the cigars? Did you buy cigars and have them charged as chickens?

I don't know; I may have bought two boxes of cigars and told Bowman, in a joking way, to call them chickens, but if I did I certainly did not intend it.

After the conclusion of Bishop's testimony the Board went into secret session. After an hour's deliberation they adopted the following resolution, and adjourned to meet in Carson on the 19th:

Resolved That Dr. Bishop be exonerated from the charges preferred by Dr. Bergstein.

J. W. ADAMS, GEO. TUFLEY, W. E. F. DEAL, J. F. HALLOCK.

The Board told Dr. Bishop that the habit of taking liquor to the Asylum must be suppressed, and that he must see that every article of the institution must do his or her whole duty, and that a better system of keeping accounts of supplies received and given out must be inaugurated.

Precious Property

At the asylum Mr. Marsden keeps a book showing what each patient is possessed of on entering. The place where all the articles are kept, is quite a museum. One man is credited with a lot of rocks, a silver ring and a pocket book. A lady deposited a purse, a pair of earrings and a brass thimble. William Yager had two photographs and a letter, another man turned in a part of a set of false teeth, another one knife, one snuff-box, one lot of stones; another had a hundred shares of Argenta stock, another a pair of overalls and one jumper. The safe contains about $300 of patients' money.

Queer Material

Saturday, says the Enterprise, at the depth of 105 feet, the joint Best & Belcher and Gould & Curry winze, below the 2,500 level, was cutting into a curious kind of base metal material that was coming in on the west side. Some of this is as black as jet, and filled with bright particles of iron pyrites. It contains neither gold nor silver, but it is thought it may overlie something of value, as the base metal of the Burning Moscow lay above the big bonanza.

A Small Call

Mrs. E. J. Knowlton, principal of the preparatory department of the Reno public school, has been drilling the pupils of this department, for a public entertainment to take place at the Reno theater the evening of Tuesday, December 25th, the proceeds to be used for purchasing an organ, now greatly needed at the time of opening exercises. Let there be a full house. The entertainment will be a treat.

Franktown Improving

A gentleman from Franktown informs the GAZETTE that Circe's contract to cut W. E. Price's wood, has improved business very much in that somewhat dilapidated burg, and that 15 or 20 more men can find there a steady winter's job, cutting timber.

Nevada Wheat

Four cars of wheat from Elko county, destined for tide water, passed west Saturday. The shipments of grain from points east of Winnemucca to California, have amounted to several hundred tons, since the freight rate on that article was reduced.

Bread and Water

The Carson Tribune wants boys under 17 years of age, who smoke cigarettes, confined on a bread and water diet. It might not be a bad idea to look a little higher and take in the "ole man" for the many bad examples he sets.

Bartlett Creek Beef

C. Derby has shipped 500 head of beef cattle from his Bartlett creek ranch to Reno this Fall. They will all find their way to California markets before Spring.

Fire at Johnsville

Grazer's brewery at Johnsville, Plumas county, was destroyed by fire last week. The building and contents were valued at $3,000; insurance, $2,500.

Elko's Contribution

It is estimated that 14,000 head of beef cattle have been shipped from Elko county to San Francisco within the past year.

"Their Occupation Gone"

R. V. Pierce, M. D., Buffalo N. Y.: I was attacked with congestion of the lungs, soreness over the liver, severe pain in the joints, a burning fever and a general giving away of the whole system. Failing to find relief in remedies prescribed, I tried your "Golden Medical Discovery." It effected my entire cure. Your medicines have only to be used to be appreciated. If every family would give them a trial, nine-tenths of the doctors would like Othello and their occupation gone. Yours truly,
